Look to this day
For it is the very life of life

*In its brief course lie all the varieties
And realities of our existence*

The splendor

The glory of action

of beauty

The bliss of growth

For every yesterday is but a dream and every tomorrow but a vision

yet today well lived

*Makes yesterday a dream of happiness and tomorrow a vision of hope
Look well, therefore, to this day*

... the very life of life
When the day begins, the quiet leaves,
And the loneliness is dispelled.
The living begins

*An important message from the desk of the principal - Look to this day
To the Class of 1969*

Father Peter J. Dougherty, Principal of Port Huron Catholic.

"God blessed them and said to them 'Be fruitful and multiply, fill the earth and subdue it' . . . and so it was . . . God saw that all he had made was very good."

There is an excitement about the creation of the world if you put yourself in Adam's place. He had a whole new world ahead of him to conquer—the elements to control, cities to build, science to develop, space to explore, people to guide and heal. He was to continue the work of creation that God left unfinished.

Creation is still unfinished, still in the process. You, the Seniors of 1969, will leave this school with some of the tools needed for molding a better world. It is important that you be CONSCIOUS of the fact that your work is a continuation of creation. A creator leaves something of himself in what he creates. Each day should find you alive with the conviction that this day is important, that this day you are leaving something of yourself in what you do, Isn't this the meaning of life? God, Who loves and is therefore creative, has given us something of Himself and has made it possible for us to share in His creativeness. You, good Seniors, have a great exciting venture awaiting you each creative day.

Each and every day we live is important

Sister Mary Aurilla, S.S.J., Vice-Principal

Sister Mary Aurilla, S.S.J., although new in her post as Vice-Principal, is well known at Port Huron Catholic. She has encouraged students to pursue a course of self discipline and reliance, to accept responsibility so that they may get the most from their days here.

Guidance assists with problems of the present and plans for the future

It's the department of Help

Mrs. Jeanne McDonald new head of the Guidance department at Port Huron Catholic.

The guidance department continues to grow in size and importance as our school ages. Starting in one room with one part-time counselor, they have spread into a suite of six rooms with a full time counselor and two who devote part of their day to this service as well as a visiting speech therapist, Mr. Robert Branch.

The result of this growth has been more help for the individual student. Both in the area of course counseling and in personality conflicts, a quiet talk with one of the counselors seems to ease the problem.

For seniors the most important offering of the guidance department is job information or college data. The choices are so many that sometimes it is difficult for a student to narrow his focus onto one job or one college without some help from this department, and yet this must be done before any concrete steps toward a career goal can be taken.

College career night, sponsored by this department, attempts to acquaint both students and parents in the Port Huron area of some of the possibilities and requirements in this area. It has helped many to solidify their goals and plans for the years immediately after high school.

In every way this department lives up to its title and its commitments to the students of our school.

Mr. Irv Claseman, here broadcasting DAT, assists in this department.

Miss Phila McIntyre is new to PHC and to guidance department.

whether academic or vocational

Terry Francek gets ready for SAT test, just one of many for seniors.

A group of Juniors wait to see their counselors about scheduling.

Mr. C. Knight of SCCC talks with Jim Leacock and Bruce Jobbitt about the requirements for the Law Enforcement program.

Organization makes any day run more smoothly, and starts in the office

Mrs. Margaret Carrol, school secretary.

Mr. Leo Dionne, accountant

Mrs. Thompson checks absence excuses.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Carrol registering students.

Mr. Donald Wismer, athletic director planning bus for a game.

Everyday success depends on nourishment and order

Chef Fred Pippen and assistants Mrs. O'Donnell and Mrs. Edwards survey their stocks.

Mr. Eldon Haynes, assistant to Mr. Daniels.

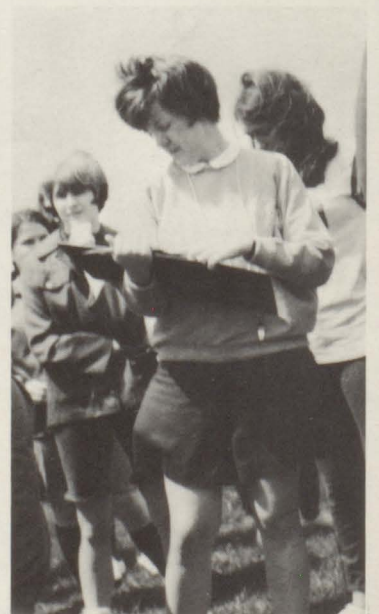

Mr. Wayne Daniels, chief custodian.

Busy moments in the school day

Camera catches faculty members at their auxiliary tasks

school personnel

Making vestments, baking hosts, playing and singing the music, serving Mass.

Frs. Vaughn and Opferman wear the new vestments made by students.

Juniors play guitars at their special Mass.

Sue Mohni and Debbie Cain display the third casuble they made.

Dick Noble, Dave Bowman, and Tom Ward carry the hosts to the altar.

Religious instruction takes place in classes

Nancy DeLuca seems amused by Debbie Priess' discussion point. Sr. Sharon Looks on.

Fr. Vaughn is still guiding the Senior boys in religion.

The Senior boys feel they know it all now, but they manage some good dialogue.

Library Aides assist students as they research class projects

Roanne Ireland, Aide, helps Sharon Gosman at the files.

Kathy Kramer and Kathy O'Brien keep the periodicals in order.

Sr. Catherine's History class use the library as a group.

The library provides a quiet place to study or to keep up with current events

Happy days depend upon communication

Sr. Caelan, department head, supervises research in the library.

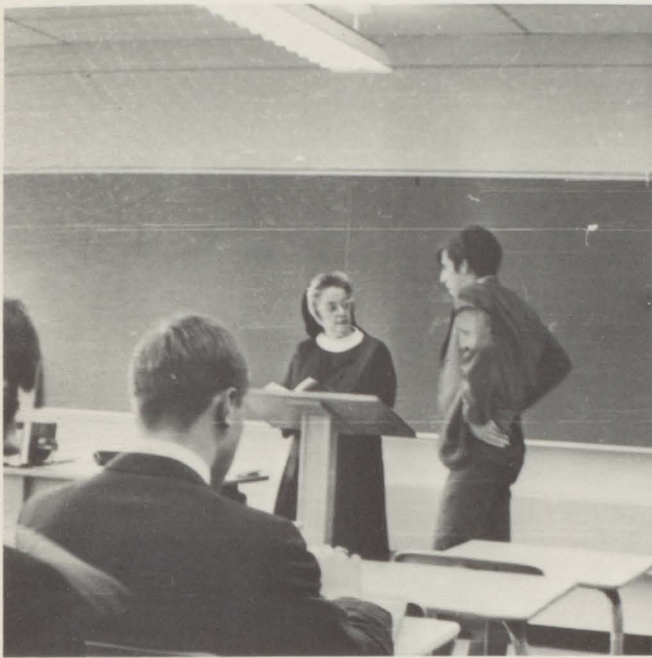

Rick Ruelle and Mark Anter perform in Speech class.

Freshmen in Mrs. Ward's English class practice speeding up their reading, using many techniques and Craig Readers.

The study of English, language and literature, is where we start.

Sister Emmett and Pat Bachler seem to be having an argument.

Sr. Jerome helps the Juniors with a discussion point.

How studious these Senior young men seem to be, all attention to the lecture.

Through mathematics, students learn

Trigonometry class sights the Blue Water Bridge.

Sr. Loretta's class seems to enjoy their complicated problems.

The Seniors in Sr. Dolores class seem very studious and intent on their assignment.

orderly thinking, self-discipline and logical reasoning

Janet Erno and Kim Vollmar going to geometry class.

Sr. Loretta explains the intricacies of Algebra to her Freshman class.

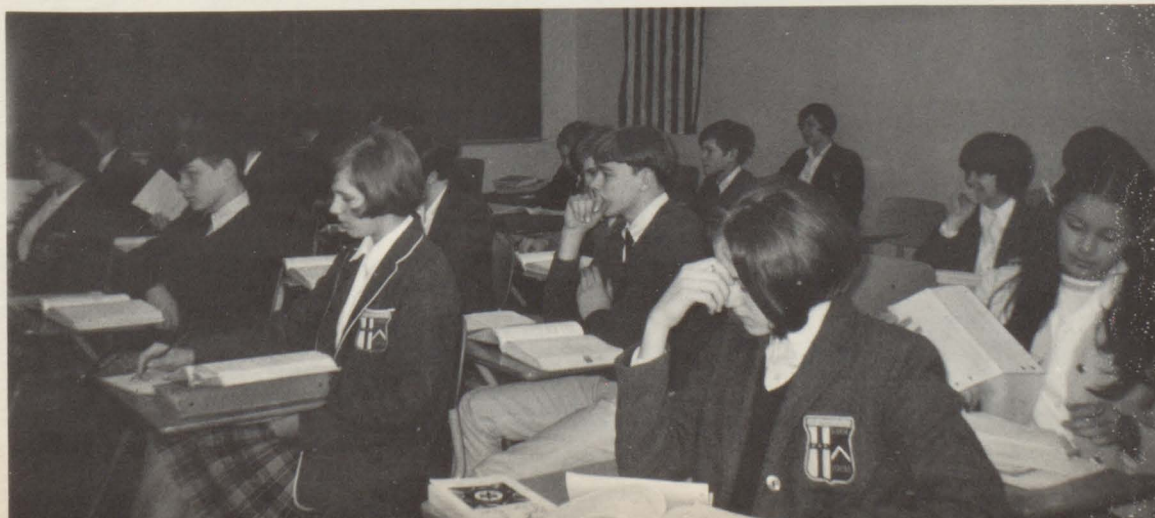

Bob Smith and Gail Warner study together.

Julie Urban and Ann Napolitan work out a problem on the board.

Freshmen in Mr. Matsons Algebra class ponder the solution of  $x$  and  $y$ .

Seniors learn and practice principles of Government and Economics

John Foley and Tom Deaner act out an ad for Economic class.

Tony Bonney explains what Port Huron does for its citizens.

Mr. Donald Wismer's Government class learn about politics from a professional, Mr. W. is a member of the City Commission.

Underclassmen study days of the past to learn their heritage

Sr. Catherine is the head of the History department. She is also known in the community for her interest in human relations, and is a member of the St. Clair County Community Relations Council. In this way she exemplifies the way a Christian combines involvement with knowledge.

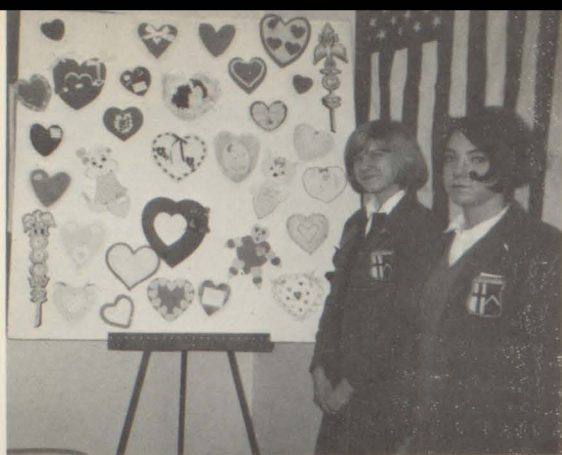

Jim Carmody seems to enjoy Mr. Anthes' American History class.

Mr. Anthes also teaches World History to Freshmen. His task in this area is shared by Mr. Mitchell.

Te amo. Je t'aime. Te amo.

Mrs. Hayward could be laughing at accents.

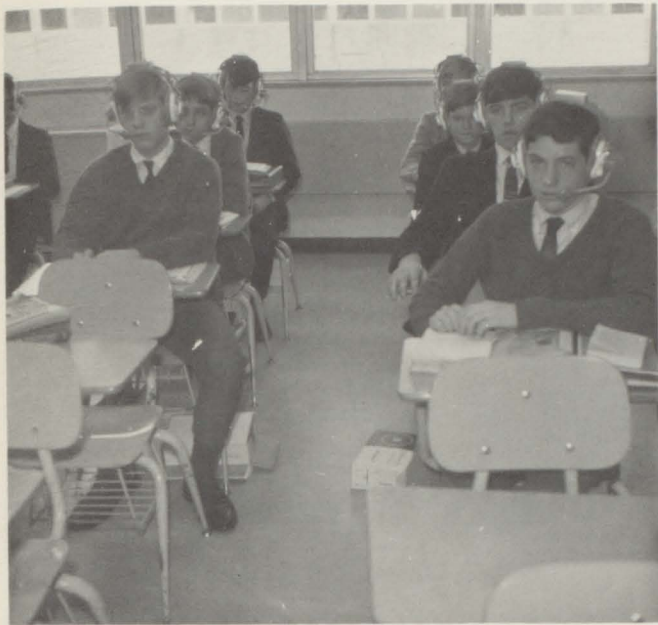

The Spanish classes even cheer the Warriors on in their new language.

Sister Eugene teaches all the Latin classes at PHC, helping to keep a dead language alive.

continue to excite and interest modern high school students

Boys in French I listen to tapes to pick up correct accent.

Sister Joseph Raphael helps Sophomore Gerry Napolitan with translation.

The language department reaped the greatest benefits from the Country Fair sponsored by the Home School Organization. Here we see students using the electronic speech laboratory equipment. Doesn't look like much, but hidden in the ceiling is the most intricate part. Best of all, it can be quickly raised to the ceiling and the room put to general use.

Foreign language students use prepared tapes to perfect their accent and pronunciation. It is the next best thing to conversing with a person versed in the language they are studying. There is an added advantage in listening to tapes, since the student become practiced in thinking in the language used instead of translating as he reads.

Mrs. Armstrong's freshman classes struggle with accents.

Fine Arts Department creates a Christmas Pageant

Art and Music combine to produce and annual original Christmas pageant. Each year the music and theme are different, and to be able to do this with such a Holy Day really shows creative ability. Sr. Jonathan and Sr. James Martin always come through.

Students experience self-expression in Music and Art classes

Dianne Nowakowski teaches a folk dance to the music class.

David Donaldson silk screening a poster.

In Science class students learn to question

Charles Nicholson in Chemistry lab.

Sr. Samuel supervises supplies for chemistry experiment.

Sr. Maureen lectures on Biology.

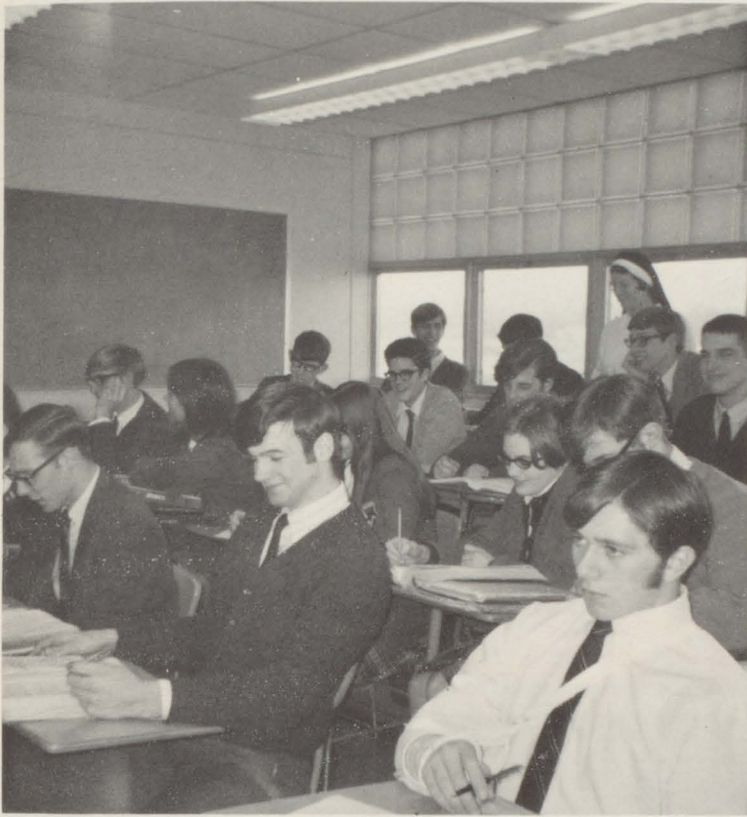

Boys in Earth Science lab discuss next step with Sr. Samuel.

theory and accept fact, to act upon faith in God and knowledge

Physics class studies with Sr. Samuel's help.

Practical application of physical theories in the lab.

Biology is naturally interesting to everyone.

Linda Ricketts and Rose Jansen with their terrarium.

Knit and purl, baste and stitch,

Mrs. Winkel helps the girls learn fundamentals of knitting.

Freshman girls make toys and decorations for Christmas.

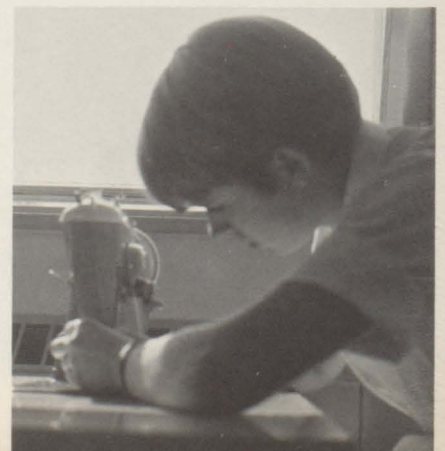

Now that they have the hang of it Betty Feher, Mary Hyde, Mary Pat Dunn and Susan Lucasek enjoy chatting as they knit mittens.

Debbie Clute, an old hand at sewing works on her new dress while Debbie Urban struggles with dropped stitches and cable pattern.

Lynn gives the machine needle full attention.

bake, boil and fry in Home Economics

Sr. Alice Patricia watches Marilyn, Tom and Diane sugar doughnuts.

Anne, Frank and Purvey haven't heard about opening the oven door.

Cooking offers work as well as fun and food. Notice that the girls wash while the boys lick the pans.

Dave Reno and Jane Grade produce a fine doughnut.

Mary and Sue see their cake rise.

Linda at the sink.

Phys. Ed. classes advance from fall archery

Carol Andreae must have scored a bull's eye.

The sophomore gym class learns the first step in archery, how to hold the bow correctly.

Mrs. Hall acts as referee for the second hour gym class as they engage in a wild game of soccer on the girls playing field.

and soccer, through volleyball and calisthenics, to baseball in spring

Theresa Holmes obviously enjoys high life.

Ann Gutierrez doesn't go quite so far up.

Debbie Preiss gets set to catch possible fly.

Physical development is an important part of the day

Mr. Al Armstrong ready to teach basketball fundamentals to class.

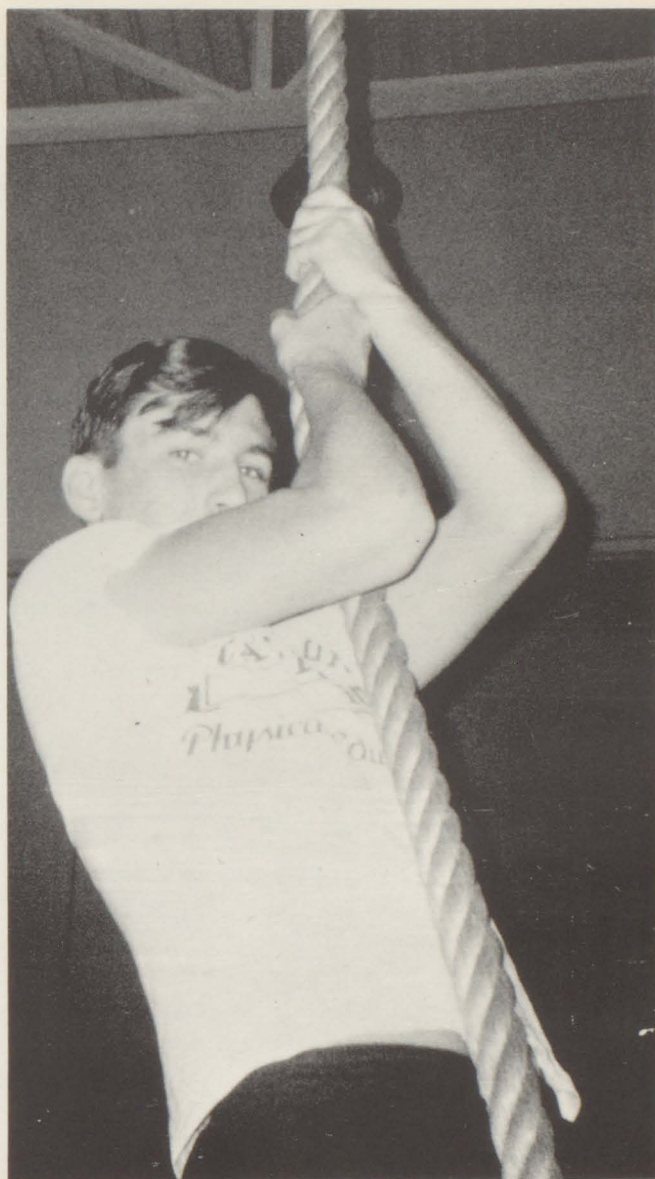

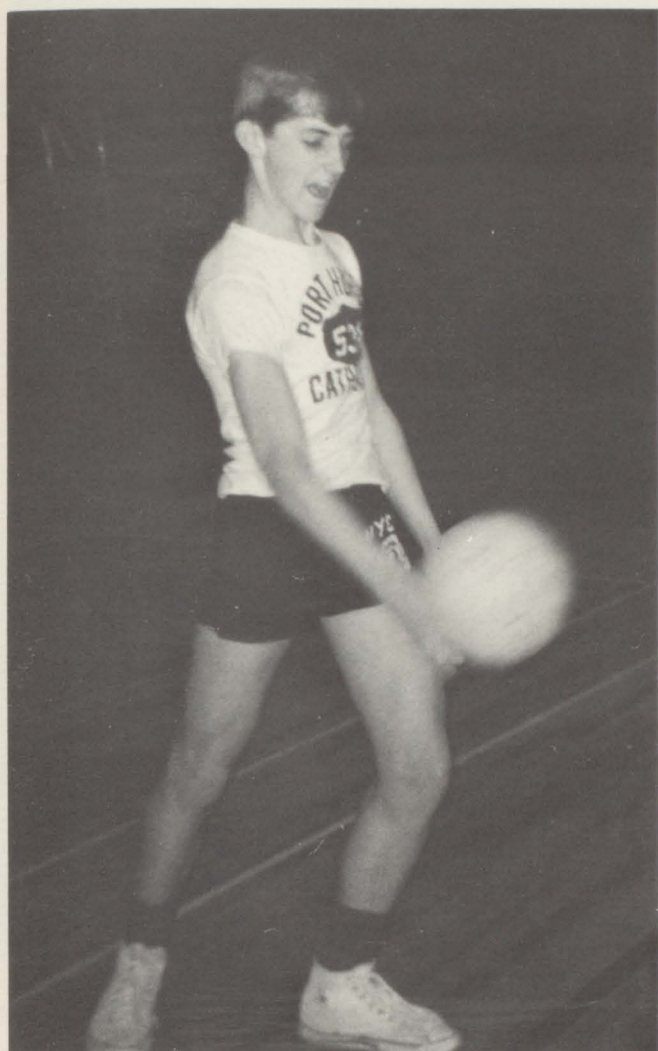

Mr. Irv Claseman waits patiently while class gets dressed.

One of the favorite gym exercises is wrestling. All the boys enjoy it.

Class includes games and gymnastics

Industrial Arts is a growing department at PHC, and offers students

Mr. Bynum helps Robert Dominguez with a drafting problem.

Dan Lynch cuts paper for drafting in the hall outside the food lab.

Power Mechanics is very popular with the male students, and very practical as well.

a chance to apply in practice some of the theories they have learned

Mr. Jimbo, instructor in Electronics supervises Jo and Dick.

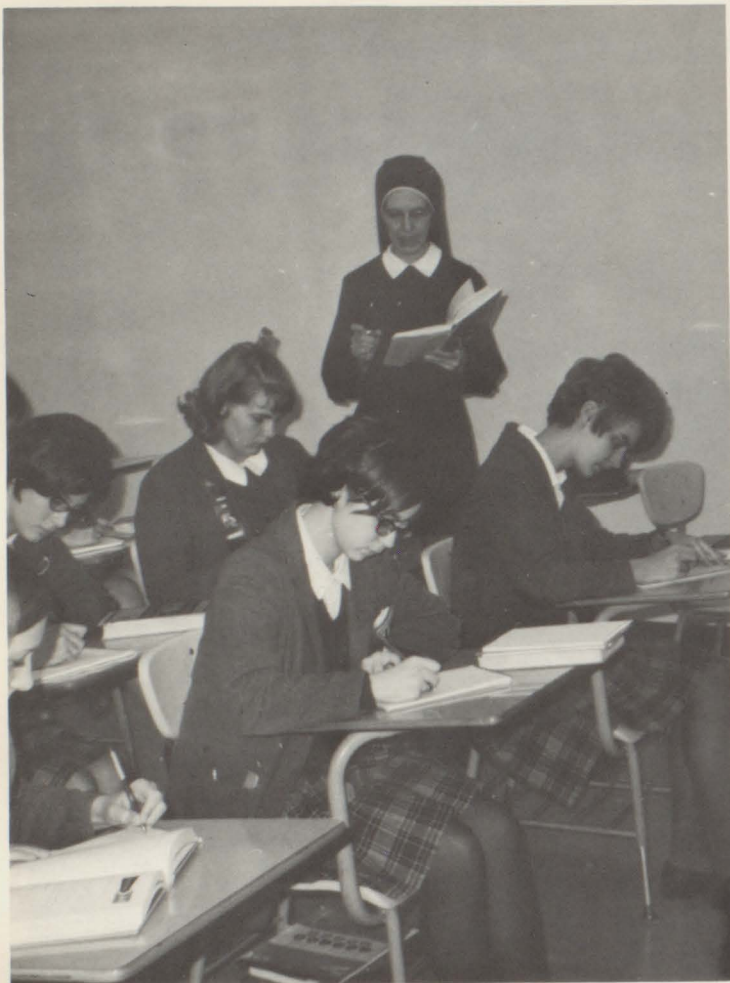

Larry Reaume uses the soldering iron.

Dave Witske, Dan Dionne and Carl Albert put their heads together to solve a problem.

Sr. Rose Marie dictates as future stenographers take it down in shorthand.

Consumer Economics as well as

Business subjects are an important part of any high school curriculum. Many students expect to use their knowledge in the market place immediately upon graduation, while others make use of their as a help in earning while in college. Port Huron Catholic tries to give each student what he needs.

Mrs. Renner explains consumer credit to Matt Lewandowski.

Diane Ippolito gets some special assistance.

Mrs. Grace Dunbar watches typing technique during an exercise.

subjects important in the commercial world are part of the Business Department

Bookkeeping class uses practical school problems to augment theory.

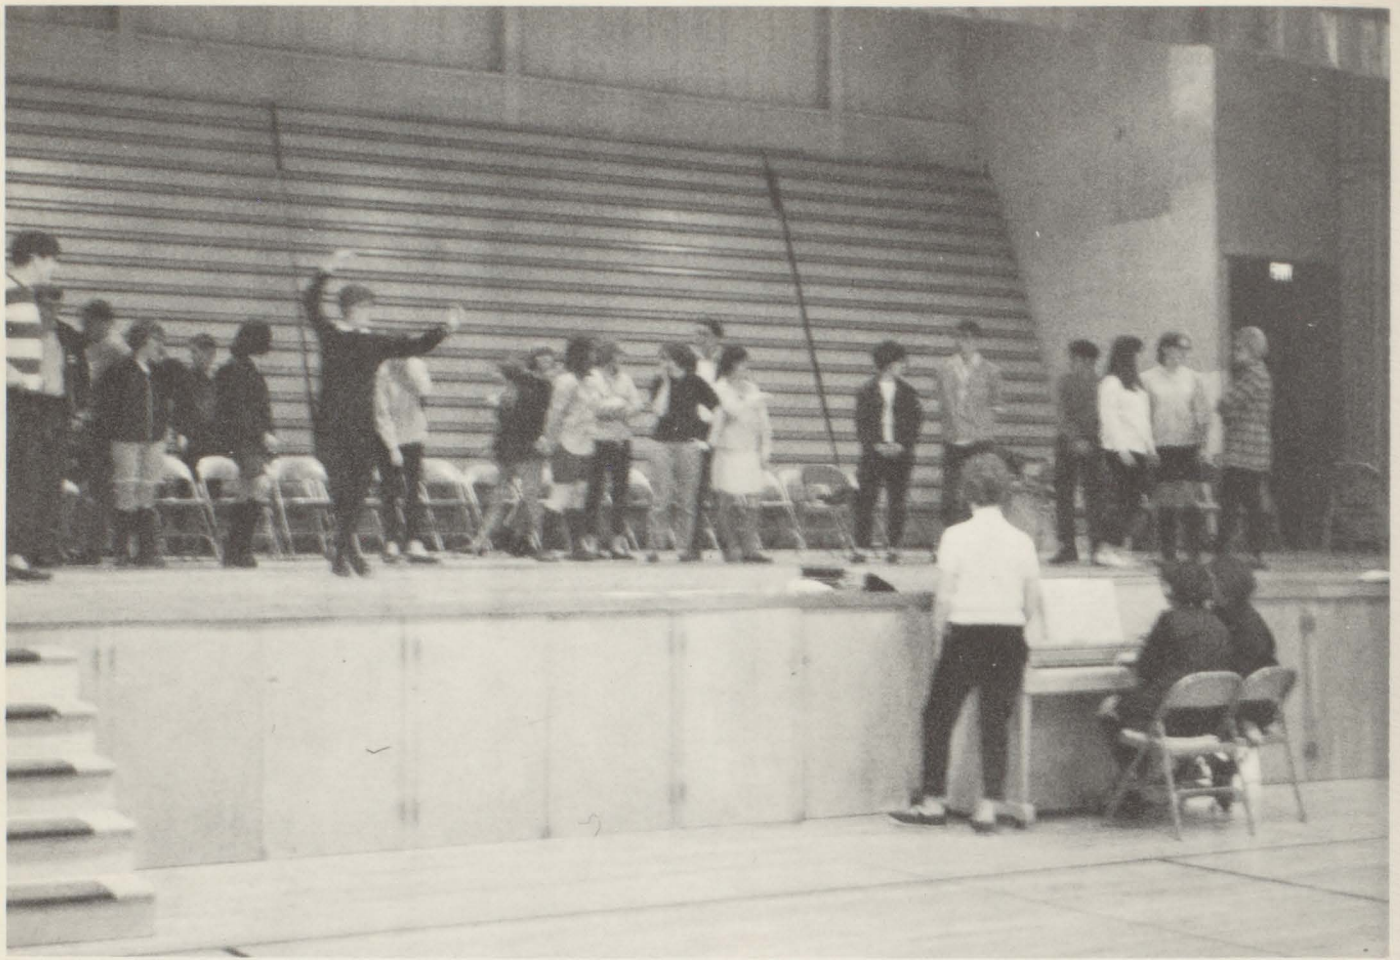

Miss Phila McIntyre helps a student with an entry.

Business Math lays the foundation for future courses in this area of learning.

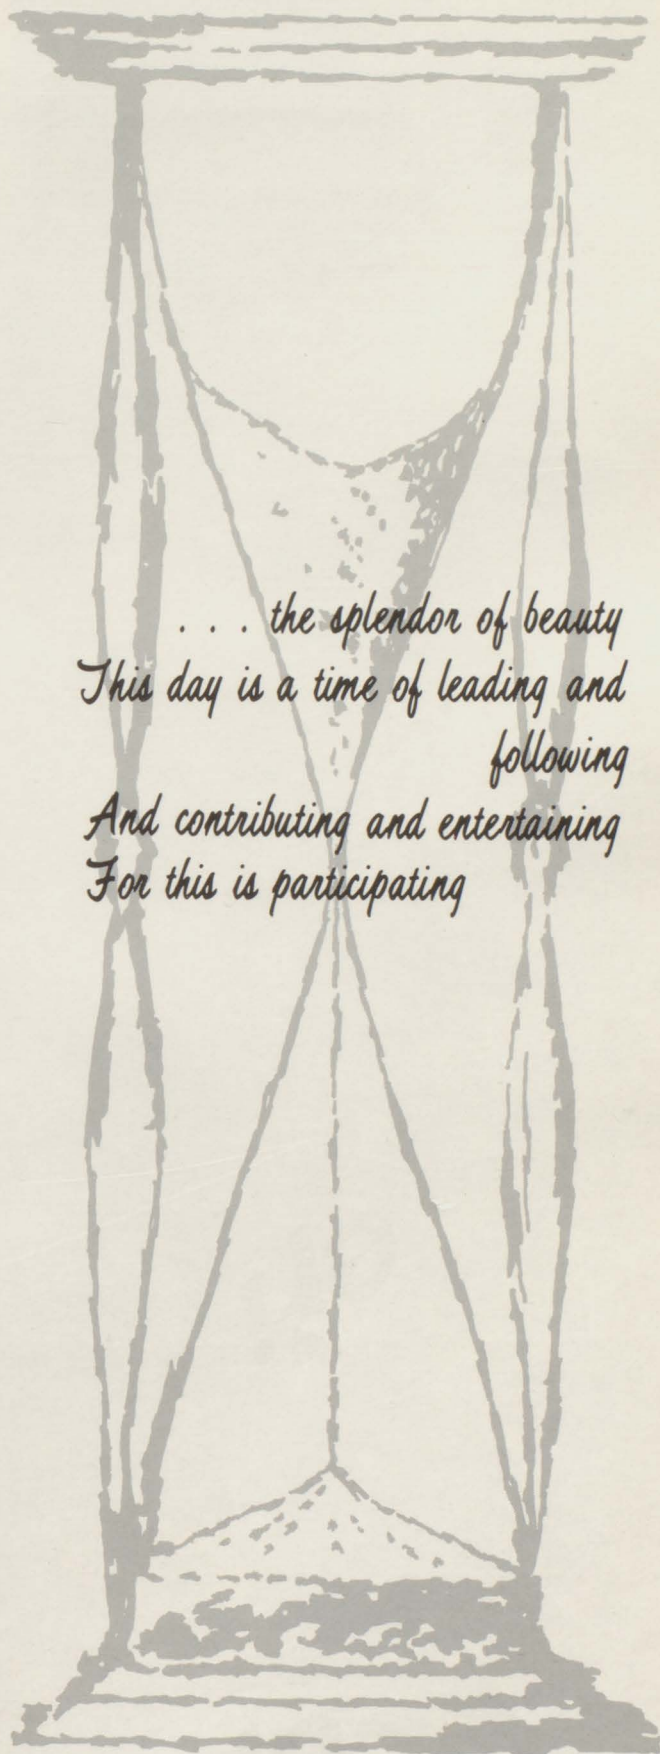

*... the splendor of beauty
 This day is a time of leading and following
 And contributing and entertaining
 For this is participating*

. . . Homecoming 1968 . . . parade, floats, court, dance . . .

each event brings its thrill

Juniors struggle to put the top on their float, the SCAL trophy.

Best of the Bunch by the freshman class won third prize.

First place float by the seniors, a spouting whale devouring his victim, We Swallow All But Da'Feet.

. . . float building furnishes fuel, the pep rally sparks the fire . . .

The sophomores worked diligently on their float, Chug On To Victory, but the second year jinx took over and they did not win a place.

A group of freshman girls start filling the empty spaces with flowers.

Junior girls, led by Mary Jo Maveety and Denise Fadell, do a skit.

Queen Karen leads half-time parade

Queen Karen Kramer is escorted to her car by Clare Bleau.

Student enthusiasm runs high during the game as Warriors tie Algonac.

The Sisters join the cheering crowd for homecoming game.

. . . While the words play, the gym swings, and the students dance ,

The Words furnish the music for a dance in an Indian Village?

Indian themes decorated the gym walls.

Queen Karen and her court reign over Ganonoque

Brigadoon - the entire school spends a day in an enchanted village.

Mrs. Sue Mireau, Mr. John Martens and Sr. Jonathon study the script.

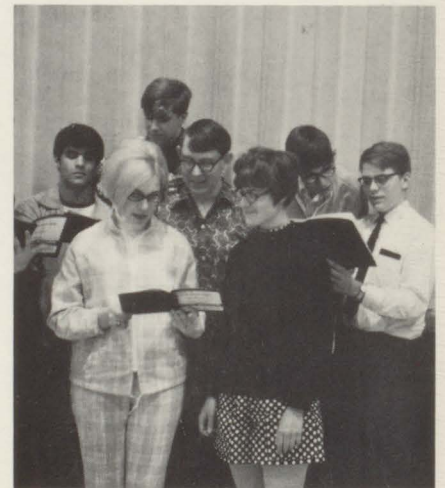

Each year the Fine Arts department presents a program for the enjoyment and edification of the people of Port Huron.

Brigadoon, the 1968 presentation, out-did all those of the past in ambition and size. One third of the students were involved in the production, either as performers, stagehands, seamstresses, make-up or in securing props. At least one quarter of the faculty were also directly involved with staging, sewing, properties, and other areas.

Naturally with such a large group of interested people, the result was fabulous. Sr. Jonathon, Mr. Martens, and Mrs. Mireau inspired the students to a peak that seemed impossible. Brigadoon was an all-time hit in Port Huron, even though its run was only three days.

Home work goes on despite Brigadoon so studying is squeezed in.

Unusual harmonies and six part singing called for much practice.

Sister James Martin and her motley crew performed miracles.

Sharon Lynch and Diane Stein at the piano.

Our one authentic bagpiper, Mr. Carl Mayer.

Pat Graham and Cindy Carpa bewitched and in love, wed in magic, misty Brigadoon.

Mary Liberty (Fiona) and Tim McBrien (Tommy) nearly lose each other as Brigadoon dissolves.

*... Home-School Organization Fair supplies fun and profits.
Come to the fair*

"We're here at the Fair, Why not join us?" Paul Wessel is saying.

What would PHC do without the help of the Home-School Organization? No sooner had the language department expressed a wish for an electronic language laboratory than our parents were scheming as to how they could help us secure it. Hence "The Fair".

Since students were directly involved in the proceeds, the parents asked our help in selling tickets. Not without a reward, though. A sailboat for the highest salesman. Then all worked preparing homemade baked goods and articles. A popcorn machine, hot and cold lunches, and a full course dinner added to the pleasure of the friends of PHC while they helped us to obtain the needed funds.

Ann Grace serves lunches and snacks.

The baked goods all gone! Must be good.

Most popular with the little tots, the pony rides.

Naturally any fair has to have plenty of balloons for sale.

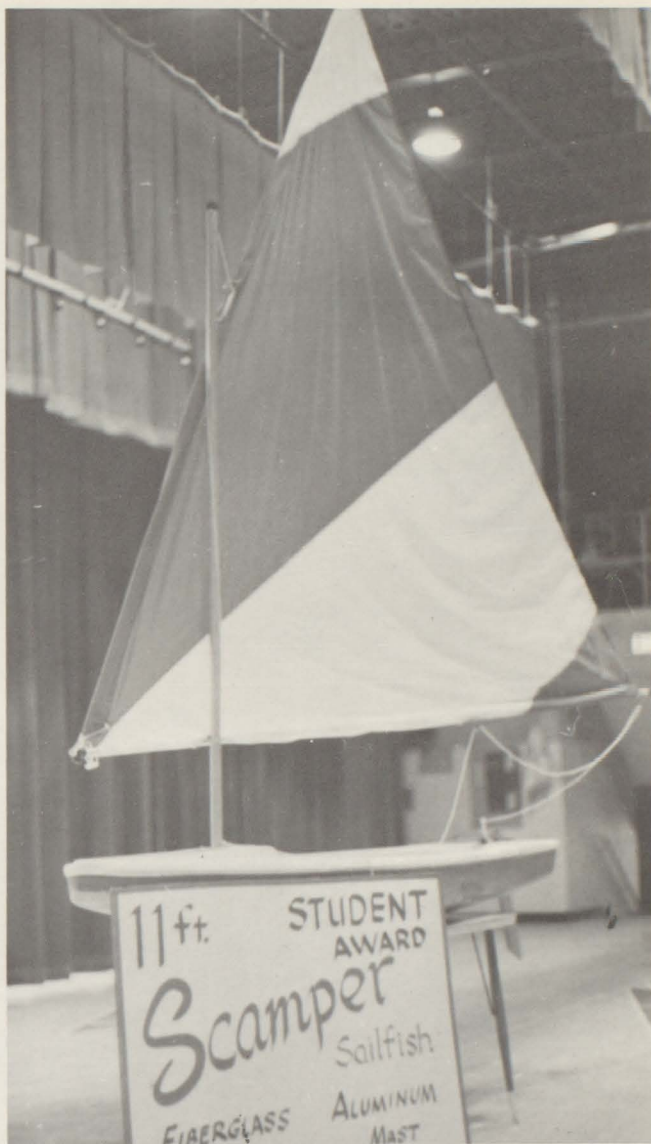

*develops friendly spirit, benefits all.
Prizes add to the festivities*

Tony, Gladys, Kim, and Dick try their skill at one of the game booths.

First prize for student ticket sellers, a fiberglass sailboat, complete and ready to sail.

What is a Fair without popcorn.

Grand doorprize for patrons of the Fair, a camper, fully furnished, ready to hitch up for summer vacation.

Prize of Prizes at the carnival were the real, live, wriggily, warm, lovable puppies.

Marcia Hendrick and Diane Stein find the short order lunch to their liking.

Students replenish

A craze revived, the hula hoop provides fun.

Of course every carnival has a candy booth

the Student Council treasury by means of fun and games at Spring Carnival

and of course its always popular, too.

Flower Power was symbolized by the success of the sophomore booth of paper posies.

A time to sing, to dance, to clap, to play. . . a time for joy . . .

Cheryl Fisher accompanies herself while singing for John.

Mary accompanies Chris who sings Name Of My Sorrow.

Tim, Ed, Dick and Bernie do What Shall I Do With A Drunken Sailor.

Sea Chant's      Soul Music

Bernie and Marilyn team up for Those Were The Days.

Debbie, Laurie, and Paula play and sing Master Jack.

Sing - In PHC

A student hootenanny sponsored each year by the Warriors Chorale is a combination entertainment and dance. Called Sing-In, this year the show featured over forty singers and guitarists and was a highlight of the fall season.

Jane, Ilona, and Mary do Angel Of The Morning.

Tim McBrien gives out with Mr. Moses.

Sherman beats the drum for The Dynamic Souls.

Folk Songs

Rock

Francine and Cindy wonder What They Have Done With The Rain.

Diane, Pam, Marilyn and Sue McDonald perform together.

Nancy, Mary, Pam and Debby harmonize I Love My Love.

Activity Night - a time to release energy and to recharge batteries;

Everyone has a chance to participate in their favorite active pastime whether its basketball, ping-pong, dancing, or whatever.

Liz Pelton enjoys an evening at PHC fun Night.

After a strenuous game of volleyball these girls need a rest before trying something else.

Anyone can see the Tramp is Tops

Cece Henry tries the trampoline and finds it great fun.

John Hillman must have done this before to be so adept.

Monica doesn't show much technique but it sure looks inviting.

Frosted Fantasy Senior class sponsors christmas dance, highlight of winter holidays

Karen and Clare look pretty happy as many students buy tickets.

As usual, the boys stand around and look at the girls.

Dan Hrigora and Debbie Anthony present their ticket at the door.

And the girls stand around and look wishfully at the dancers.

The Dance Committee. K. Whaling, M. Acker, D. Neaton, P. Steroskey, K. Kramer, N. Juszysz, N. Noble.

Craig and Pam enjoy "C. C. Thomas & the Yellow Case"

Sr. Caelan, Senior advisor, Nancy Noble and Gary Fadell at the refreshments table.

The Peanut Pay-off

Freshmen push the peanut across the gym floor for the Seniors

*This day is a time
of joining and sharing,
And giving and cheering,
For this is belonging*

Highest Scholastic Honor National Honor Society

The National Honor Society remains the acme of achievement for serious students. Invitation to join this organization is extended to students who maintain above average grades and who also serve their school in other capacities.

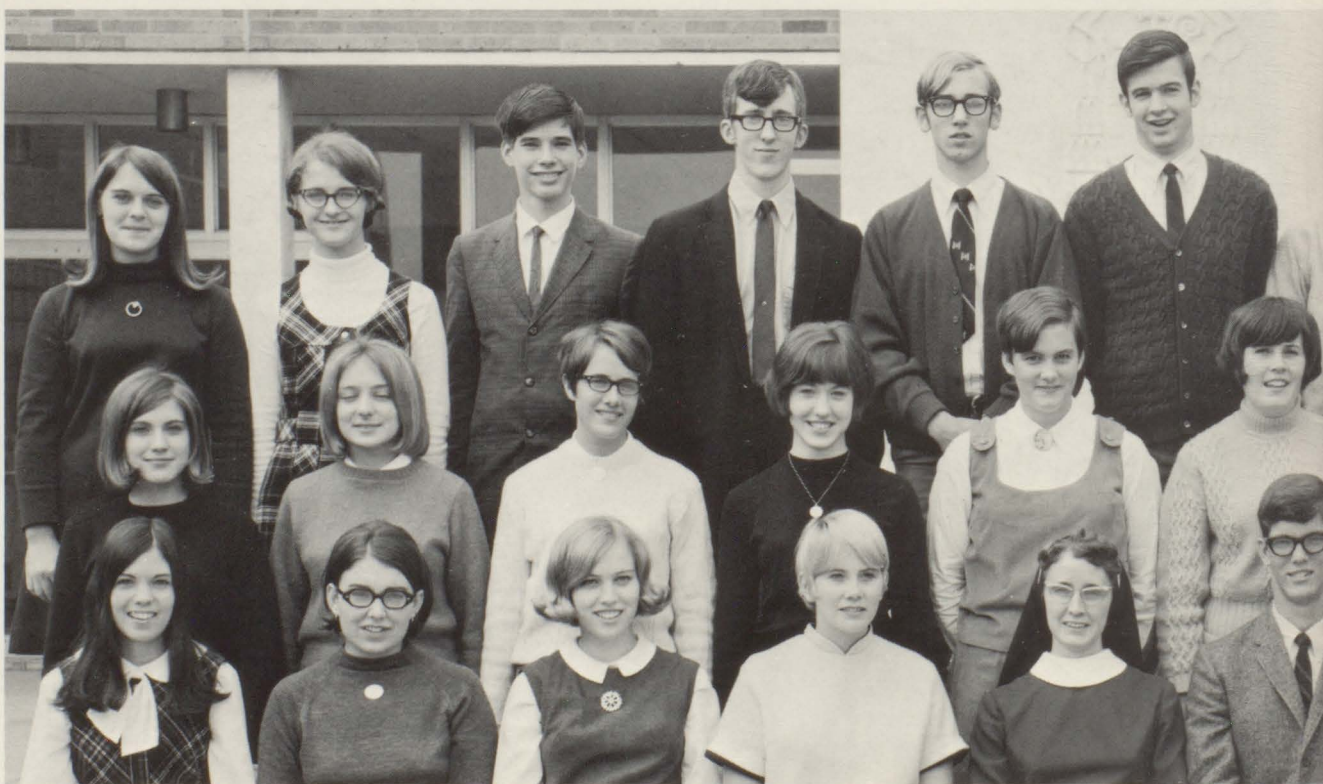

Their scholastic standard is attested by their report cards, but each member must be screened by the faculty in the areas of leadership, service, character. The result is a group of outstanding young persons who set the tone for Port Huron Catholic.

Students become provisional members during their sophomore year if they pass the screening. Junior year finds those who persisted in their efforts initiated during their senior year. The total membership is proportionate to the class.

Highest Elective Honor Student Council

The Student Council is the elected student governing board. In the spring of each school year the officers mount a campaign and are voted into their respective offices by the three underclasses. In the fall a representative from each home-room is elected so that the group truly represents the students.

It is the duty of this organization to set up school policy in relation to activities and social events. All groups within the school must arrange their functions through the Council, so that events are coordinated and do not interfere with each other. In a school with so many organizations this is a very important job.

In addition to seeing that other clubs are run smoothly, the Council itself sponsors a Carnival every spring. This is a real "fun day" at Port Huron Catholic and every one looks forward to it all year. It takes place during the school day and relieves the tensions before finals begin.

The heart of our school is its commitment to living Christianity

Future Teachers meet monthly to learn about teaching problems. As a practical experience they undertake to help teachers with preparation of bulletin boards, and to help students by tutoring after school. Jaynie Gorski here helps a young man with his lessons.

Member of the Service Squad greet visitors and carry messages

Karen Fadell takes a message from Sr. Maureen for delivery.

Debbie Chickonoski with attendance lists.

David Kelly studies while on duty in the main hall.

From the largest group in the school, the Service squad has become the smallest. No longer involved in regulating between period traffic, their duties now are chiefly as messengers, hosts to visitors, hall pass checkers, and message deliverers. Although this may seem slight, the fact that one member is always on duty in the main hall eliminates the necessity for P.A. interruptions.

Sally reads between checks on hall passes.

Linda DeBell relays a message to the office.

Candy stripers represent the Future Nurses as they help in area hospitals

To learn by action is the goal of the Government Club

The largest club in the school must be the Government Club. It is also the most active. Meetings consist of pot luck dinners featuring outside speakers who are involved in practical politics.

Since this year saw a presidential election, the club sponsored a mock election as one of its projects. They also secured local contenders for state and federal elective offices who spoke to the students about their positions on public affairs.

The most excitement is engendered by the annual trip which the club plans to take during the Easter vacation. For many years the destination was the nation's capital, but the last two years the scene has shifted to New York City, reflecting the interest of the students in the United Nations as representing the World government. The club moderator, Mr. Donald Wismer, accompanies the students on this venture.

First spring sport is track & field . . .

On the mark.

Get set.

Run

Dave Farrington goes over the bar for a first.

Steve Landschoot gets ready to put the shot.

The relay team waits anxiously for the handoff, crucial because seconds can be saved here.

Chris Ward getting leverage to place the shot.

speed, stamina, skill

There's some of the excitement of a circus in a track meet. The colorful participants, the variety of events taking place simultaneously, the moving spectators, the sound of the starting explosions combine to provide an exciting spectacle for the crowd.

The tests of individual skill in the different events compares with the high wire acts, and the races and field competitions have all the tension of trapeze acts. A track meet has something for everyone.

Front; P. Klarer, Bowman, M. Klarer, Enright, Balogh, Zimmer. Second; Hall, Ward, Janish, McIntyre, Jobbitt, Davidson, Coach Tim Anthes. Back; Vizdos, Gilan, Conard, Bayes, Marx, Fadell.

Runners on their way after a smooth, fast hand-off.

Faithful timer, Mr. J. Mullins.

Faithful two-miler, Brian Balogh.

Paul Klarer heads for the bar with his pole, hoping to beat his brother's mark.

Mike Klarer, record-breaker, rests.

Baseball fever hits Warriors in the spring, but not hard enough

Like the rest of the males in the country, the Warriors turn to baseball in the spring. But, unlike the Tigers, the PHC nine lost more games than they won. Perhaps this will be the year we will again win the St. Clair Area League championship and bring another trophy to the case in the hall.

Last Will and Testament of '69ers

The Class of 1969, being of sound mind and generous nature, are unable to leave the halls of Port Huron Catholic High School without leaving some of their possessions, talents, and accomplishments behind for the benefit of their younger fellow students. There are elements and mementoes that have proven helpful to them that they wish to bequeath to others so that their days at school may be more rewarding and pleasant. Therefore they present the following items.

Members of the class of '70 will find that Government class will be easier because of thoughtful seniors. Henry Wolff wills his textbook, heavily annotated and underlined to David Ruiz, while Patty Sterosky gives her book, laden with hippy stickers to Ann Marie Randolph. Kathleen Kramer thoughtfully provides her spot in Mr. Wismer's closet to anyone skinny enough to fit, so they may hide when unprepared. Nancy Gerlach wills to Connie Gleason her favorite seat so party of the second part may enjoy the same feeling of contentment felt by party of the first part. (It's in the last row). Donna Rodzik bequeaths her favorite seat to Teresa Holmes and Mary Ann Davidson gives hers to Bill Lyons. Barb Ahles does will and bequeath to Mary Ott her knack for getting "good" grades in said class and Richard Kramp wishes Steve Daniels to have his wonderful knack of receiving four page reports. Richard Conard generously passes on his ability to ask intelligent questions (requiring long answers) to the next person to sit in row five, seat four.

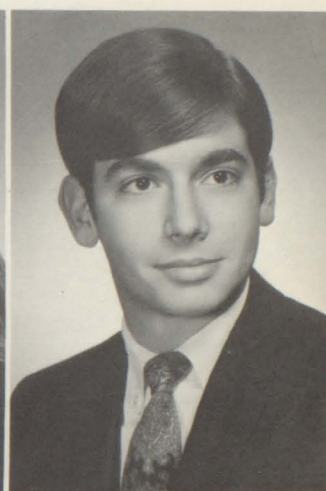

More Seniors show concern for Mr. Wismer's class. Julie O'Brien wills Janet Schroeder her front seat so she can better listen to those "short, concise stories" told by Mr. W. Dawn DesJardin shows her concern by leaving Janet all the joys she received in said class and Ken Leneway wills his seat to Dave Donaldson. Cindy Rushton leaves her never-failing eraser to Linda DeBell so she will be able to hand in perfect papers on next year's test.

Bob Bloink wants to leave his practically unused vocabulary words and definitions to any member of the class of 1970 who will be privileged to be in Sr. Emmett's English class. Marlene Glencer gives her seat in the same class to anyone who should want it, and John Vermeesch offers his vocabulary list, including cheat sheet, to some weary, deserving Junior to save him work in the above course.

Paul Suprenant wills his ability to argue successfully with Sr. Samuel to the entire upcoming physics class along with one pack of Dentyne gum. Jacqueline Krueger bequeaths to any ambitious and courageous female member of the class of '70 her place in an all male drafting class. (Don't all rush for this one). Barbara Kearns wills her good behavior and ability to keep her mouth shut in class to Sharon Lynch.

Ruth Leach bequeaths to freshman Becky McGregor her N.H.S. pin because it may be the only way she'll acquire one. Dan Lynch leaves to John Priess his fantastic ability to easily conform to school regulations. Lucy Ruiz wills to all next year's Senior a tape recording of Mr. Wismer's many stories, so that when he asks, "Have you heard . . .", they can truthfully answer, "Yes, we have".

Richard Ruelle bequeaths his entire collection of "fine" arts sculpture to Michael Herring, while Charles Park generously wills his brains and grades to Sophomore Dennis Olmstead, knowing Denny needs them more than he will in the future.

The athletic program will receive benefits from many departing Seniors. Joan Lanschoot leaves to her brother Steve her forward position on the girls basketball team. Bill Stanlake bequeaths his rebounding ability and height to "Fearless Fly", Mike McBrien, and Chris Ward wills to Rick Seefried and Jim Carmody his square-toed kicking shoe so they can kick each other. Brian Balogh is to receive from Dennis Marx his ability to run in a straight line. (On a curved track?)

seniors find their joy in accomplishment mingled with sweet sadness

Mike Nowakowski shows his loyalty to Emmett by leaving his tattered football jersey No. 37 to Pete Wiegand in hopes that he may carry on the "Pride of Emmett" tradition. Joe Urban leaves his Saginaw Novice Heavyweight Boxing Title to Mr. Wismer, while Bruce Jobbit wills to Steve Janish the ability to succeed at everything he tries as Bruce did.

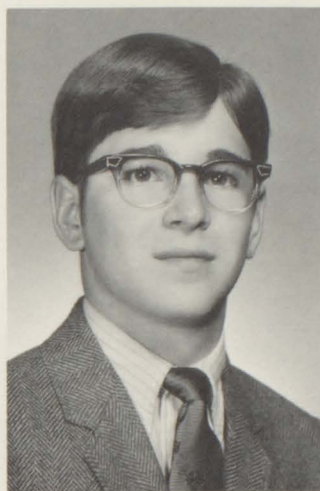

Some Seniors seek to make life easier for their younger family members. Janice Urban leaves to her sister Julie the ability to struggle through 12th grade and make it. (She thinks!) Jim McIntyre leaves to his little brother, Pat, Caroline Corvair and her prominent parking place in the teachers parking section, and hopes he may enjoy all the problems Jim had with her.

Tim McBrien gives the girls a break by willing his brother to any girl of the class of '70 who wants him, and Marilyn McNulty wills her sis, Kathy to Port Huron Catholic High School. (May the Lord forgive her).

More athletic bequests: Doug Knowlton, leaves to all future Varsity football players their slave driver, "The Butcher", and Bob Sheehan wills his super speed and athletic abilities to Harley Davidson. Katy Zimmer leaves to the entire school her strong support at all athletic events. Richard St. Onge leaves Kenny Juzysta his height and his bowling ball, and the presidency of the Catholic League, and Ray Johnson gives his ability as a pole vaulter to Ed Haeck.

Some bequests are personal. Nan Koerber wills to Dick Noble one banana and her great ability in Math. Sandra Schneider leaves her wonderful smile to Fr. Vaughn. Connie McGregor leaves to Sophomore Diane Thompson her trusty T-shirt, for which she finally has no use and since she noticed in P E that Diane's was a little worn and yellow.

Gary Wurmlinger wills to the class of '70 his BOMB along with all of its wornout features, such as a weak set of jumper cables, four filled ashtrays, and an electric seat which doesn't work.

Spooner J. Molinaro leaves to the fine gentleman Bill Streator his reserved parking space formerly occupied by Gail Galaxie for his fine goat, while Matt Lewandowski gives to John Chavez his private parking space in the school lot, so he can be the first to leave school everyday.

Steve Kearns bequeaths his quiet good nature to Kim Patterson, and Bev Morgan leaves to Freshman Sheila Liberty her devilish attitude which has been useful during the years, hoping it will bring her good luck. Nancy Noble gives her hockey equipment to Craig Lawrence, hoping he will find a use for it.

Rock Reaume wills to Hubert III and Pat Gutoerrez one bow tie, slightly frayed but still useful, and one old Rock H. Reaume fight film. Jane Wilson, being of sound mind and body does will her slightly dented cookie pan to Mary Jo Maveety, sorry she won't get a chance to use it.

Richard Jakubiak leaves to Robert Sterling all his drafting equipment and another year with Mr. Bynum. Sue Smith gives to Junior Nancy Grace one slightly used copy of Pope Paul's encyclical on birth control in hopes that she will have Senior Religion in Room 108 and enjoy it as much as the donor.

Mark Lents leaves his job as sports editor for Smoke Signals to Bill Lys, hoping he has fun. Randy Zimmer gives to Dave Bowman his ability to cook in Foods class, and to get along with S.A.P. Lynn Parent hopes Joe Conard will benefit from her bequest of her French speaking ability, along with her second year French book.

Some bequests may bring questionable benefits. Kris Schaeffer wills her natural knack for losing class and student council elections to Dick Noble, who seems to be doing pretty well on his own. Debbie Martin wants Joni Evanchuck to have her ability of always putting her foot in her mouth. Daniel McNamara leaves to Dennie Drayton his warm seat and pillow, also some of his good dreams thrown in, to be used in Mr. Armstrong's Government class, and Jim Leacock gives his promiscuous reputation to the underclassmen, so they may be fulfilled.

Bev Simons wills to some lucky member of the future Typing II class that may want it her ability to get hollered at every day, while Barbara Gosman leaves to her sister Sharon her ability to type two words a minute error free. Ruth Bernard being of sound mind and right-handed, leaves to Marie Moser all the school's left-handed basketballs for whatever team she plays on next year, and Debbie Cain, likewise of sound mind and body, wills nothing to nobody.

Laura Charbeneau wants Vernie Ullenbruch to receive her key to all the master locks in the school, and Patrick Bachler bequeaths to John Murphy 4000 hot dogs to be served to him in the cafeteria on 4000 consecutive days during the school year '69-'70, hoping he likes hot dogs.

More bequests that may alleviate problems for future Seniors are as follows. Mary Hamilton wills her front seat in Sr. Emmett's English class to Mike Heering. Dana Ciul gives one Judo throw to Mary Johnson, and Don Bloink wills to Jim Carmody his fabulous talent for efficiently discouraging opponents with well placed blocks. Charles Bristol gives to Sr. Loretta his ability to avoid blowing his cool and walking out of a class.

Vickie Banka wishes to leave to Sr. Catherine's entire religion class her extraordinary powers of expression and unique ability she enjoys of never blushing. Terri Crimmins bequeaths to Sophomore Tod Fitzgerald her hopes and aspirations that her future French teacher will not call her Terri.

to their big effort in the heritage drive, success crowns their efforts

Tom Ganley leaves Mr. Wismer's lion to Patty Martindale, and Connie Gaffney leaves her most prized possession, her "comb" to Gathy Gaffney. Terry Francek wants Gerry Sosnowski to have her three colored car so that he may ride in luxury. Debbie Stein bequeaths to Chip Sterosky her fickleness, and a jar of peanut butter, so that he can have more fun in his Senior year.

Jackie Tuer wills a case of Metrecal and her height to Mary Koerber for use in G.A.A., and Nadine Ullenbruch wants Nancy Harris to inherit her good habit of eating olives and other fattening food. Jane Grade wills to Nancy Grace one face mask and the motto "Make America Beautiful". Sue Golden leaves the school two more Goldens to use as the school sees fit.

Beth Noble leaves her dry ball points, used up in laying out the Heritage, to Denise Fadell, and Jeanette DeLano wills her job of dishing out hot dogs during lunch hour to Terry O'Brien. Anita Ashford wants Kerry Stepka to have her art supplies, and Alice Gaffigan leaves her secretarial skills to any one who needs them, since she will have no further use for these talents.

Joy Bambusch, being sound of limb, wills to Marie Moser her place at the top of the beginners hill at Black Forest, and Marie Fredendall bequeaths her "tremendous" badminton ability to Becky McGregor so she can win next year. Shirley Brennan leaves to Diane Nowakowski her treasured CCM hockey stick, and her "well-earned" title as the feared fleet-footed flyer of Citizen's Federal Hockey Team.

Kelly Dempsey wills to Frances Rudden her trusty wooden skis so that she may more easily learn the sport, and Kris Whaling, another skier, wills the cast from her broken leg to Theresa Henry. Sandy Siglow wills all her used Black Forest tickets to Ray Banka and Betty Feher leaves her bowling average to Karen Fadell for next years season.

YOUNG PEOPLE GET INTO OUR NEWSPAPER

You bet they do! What they are doing, how they are using their skills, talents and energy! It's all reported in The Times Herald by corps of Young Correspondents from area schools every day. Special teen news is carried on The Times Herald Pages plus a complete sports coverage of 49 high schools in the Blue Water District. There is always a generous coverage of reading for Young Adults and Parents.—Special Features—How-to-Do's, Fashions, Foods, and Entertainment, And if you want to make a dress from it after everyone has read it, like Pauline Christie did . . . that's okay too.
